DID YOU KNOW ?

INNAMINCKA, SA

Made famous by the explorers Burke and Wills in their ill-fated exploration across Central Australia, Innamincka is a bush icon located close to the SA border with QLD. It is also known for Australia's largest billabong, the Cullyamurra Waterhole which has never known to have been dry.

Innamincka lies 475 kms on the Strzelecki Track from Lyndhurst and 424 kms from Birdsville.

Some Australian state borders have not opened at the time of this newsletter and every state has different border regulations. Please check with the authorities for quarantine requirements before travel

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM AROUND

ZERO CO2

After the Glasgow COP26 conference, some Australian mines are gearing up to cut carbon emissions. Oz Minerals is planning a copper-nickel mine in Western Australia, with a 100% renewable on-site power plant and zero-emissions mining fleet.

TRAVEL

International travel is going to get more complicated than before. Gone are the days of checking for a passport, ticket and wallet. Now, there are more forms to fill, apps to install, certificates to carry, and checks to clear. This means longer wait times at the airport.

Click to read the travel rules on the ABC News website.
